An Effectual Worm Medicine.

BROWN'S VERMIFUGE COMFITS,

OR WORM LOZENGES: Much sickness, undoubtedly, with children and adults, attributed to other causes, is occasioned by worms. The "VERMIFUGE COMFITS," although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child.—This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and found to be safe and sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children.

CHILDREN HAVING WORMS require immediate attention, as neglect of the trouble often causes prolonged sickness.

SYMPTOMS OF WORMS IN CHILDREN are often overlooked. Worms in the stomach and bowels cause irritation, which can be removed only by the use of a sure remedy. The combination of ingredients used in making Brown's "Vermifuge Comfits" is such as to give the best possible effect with safety.

TELEGRAPHIC.

Despatches to the Evening Times.

From Kansas—The State Convention.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.

There were seven new cases and five deaths from cholera reported in this city yesterday. Forty-four cases occurred during the week ending yesterday, thirty of which were fatal. In Brooklyn there were 25 cases and 17 deaths during the same period.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.

Reports from Kansas state that the Indians are continuing their depredations.—Gen. Sherman writes that the settlements extend ninety miles too far West for his force to afford protection.

The Kansas State Convention unanimously recommended the Legislature to submit to the people the question of striking the word "white" out of the constitution, having reference to the elective franchise.

Gov. S. J. Crawford was re-nominated for Governor, and Major H. Greene for Lieut. Governor.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.

The ship C. A. Farwell took fire this morning and was scuttled. She arrived from London, yesterday.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7.

At twenty minutes to one o'clock this morning, a fire broke out in the stories of the League House. The flames spread rapidly, and when the firemen reached the spot the upper part of the building was on fire. The fire is supposed by members of the Union League, who were early on the ground, to be the work of an incendiary, and the janitor of the building has been arrested.—The upper stories of the League House were seriously damaged by fire and water. At 2 o'clock, the firemen got control of the flames, and the lower portion was saved. The walls remain intact. The American flag over the building and the Ellsworth flag which was hanging from the walls, were saved by the fireman.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7.

The Convention met at 10:30 this morning. A resolution, thanking Judge Underwood for his efforts to bring Jeff. Davis to trial, was debated and withdrawn.

A resolution favoring the sustaining the loyal press of the South was adopted.

The report of the committee on reconstructed States was read. It takes strong grounds in favor of impartial suffrage. During the reading of the address several portions were applauded, and the paragraph relative to impartial suffrage was cheered enthusiastically. Some debate was had on negro suffrage. About 100 delegates are present.

How Philadelphia Received the Loyal Southern Convention. Eighty Thousand of the People Welcome them.

The Boston Daily Advertiser's special despatch describes the meeting of welcome in that city on Wednesday evening:

The city during the evening gave itself up to this meeting of welcome, with an abandon and heartiness wholly unprecedented. The affair was initiated and managed by the League Club, and the entire arrangements were on the most complete and extended scale possible. Every one of the twenty-seven wards in the city sent delegations with torches and banners and music. One hundred and thirty different organizations were represented, and it was carefully calculated that if united into one, the procession would have aggregated at least five miles in length, and over thirty-five thousand in number. Fireworks were discharged by the wagon load, thirty bands gave voice to the general delight, and the night was a Babel of cheers and shouts.

Hundreds of men were quick in testimony that Philadelphia never before was so stirred with excitement, not even at the downfall of Richmond, or the surrender of Lee's army. The reception given to the President last week was, when compared to this given these Southern loyalists, nothing more than a ward meeting. This is at least thirty times as great as that. It is utterly useless to attempt any description of the demonstration, beyond what is indicated by these figures; twenty fresh reporters with a whole day before them could not more than do them justice. Wilson, Kelley, Yates, Lane, Schenck,—veterans of twenty or thirty political campaigns,—all concur in saying that in numbers, intelligence and enthusiasm the meeting far exceeds any other ever held in the United States.

The speaking began about half-past eight from six stands in Broad street, between Market and Walnut, and was kept up till after midnight. Cameron, Hamilton, Wilson, Schenck, Durant, Willey, Lane, Fletcher, Bross, Hawley, Tilton, Botts, Moss, Sherwood, Harlan, and a dozen others, were among the speakers. The immediate audience about the stands covered acres, and must have numbered fifty thousand persons, while thirty thousand more must have been congregated in the side streets; and let it be forever said to the credit of Philadelphia, that from first to last, there was no trouble, no accident, no disturbance. The police were out in force, but there was not even a drunken man for them to arrest! The people are, as Mr. Seward said, a law unto themselves, and, as Judge Kelley says, that law is twelve thousand strong against Andrew Johnson, in this city.

The New York Republican State Convention.

RENOMINATION OF GOV. FENTON.

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 5.—Lyman Tremain is permanent President of the Republican State Convention, which subsequently nominated the following ticket:—For Governor, R. E. Fenton; Lieutenant-Governor, General Stewart L. Woodford; Canal Commissioner, Stephen T. Hoyt; State Prison Inspector, General Hammond.

The platform adopted sets forth that every generous and patriotic heart demands, the speediest restoration of the Union which is consistent with justice and national safety, declaring:—

First, that the Union is perpetual, and while a people may be in rebellion the State relations to the government may be ruptured, not destroyed; and the government may subdue such rebellion, and it belongs to the legislative power to determine when the States may safely resume the exercise of their rights and privileges which have been inert or suspended by their own wrong; that the contrary doctrine is false and pernicious.

Second. That the continued absence of ten States from Congress is due to their refusal to adopt certain changes in the basis of the representation and equality of States in Congress; a demand to enter without it, is demanding increased political power for a bloody attempt to dissolve the Union.

Third, That the pending amendment to the Constitution is essential to engraft as an organic law, which when adopted by any one of such States, it should be allowed to resume its place in Congress.

Fourth, That inequalities of political liberty are dangerous to the peace and welfare of the State.

Fifth, That the President convicts himself by his own statements of a usurpation of power, and that his policy encourages national disturbance.

Sixth, compliments Governor Fenton and others.

Seventh, reaffirms the Declaration of Independence and hopes for a removal of despotism and vassalage all over the world, compliments the soldiers and black loyalists and takes heart for the coming contest.

The Boston Advertiser's special Philadelphia says:

There will be trouble in Tennessee, perhaps. The delegation here received telegraphic despatches this morning, saying that one of the prominent delegates from their State to the recent reconstruction Johnson Convention, a man in the confidence of the President, had just made a speech at Shelbyville, in which he plainly stated that the legislature and existing State government would soon be set aside. It is well known to Governor Brownlow, that the Executive some time ago was upon the point of sending a high officer of the army to perform his functions, and demand a surrender of the archives of the government, and it is presumed that he has once more given hints of the scheme he is revolving in his mind.

English papers notice the fact that during the run from New York to Brest, the Pereire exceeded the Ville De Paris' run, the voyage being of extraordinary quickness, the distance from New York to Brest, which is 26 miles further from New York than Liverpool, and 225 miles further than Queenstown, being accomplished in eight days and 22 hours, giving an average speed of 14 knots an hour—a rate of steaming without parallel.

What General Chamberlain Says.

All must unite in demanding security for the future. We must have guaranties good and sufficient against any future attempt to destroy this Government whether in the exercise of a pretended right by open war, or BY MORE ARTFUL AND INSIDIOUS ASSAULTS against the principles on which this Nation was founded. These are points we cannot yield without danger and dishonor; and WHEN THE SOUTHERN STATES SHALL HAVE COMPLIED WITH THESE CONDITIONS IN GOOD FAITH, they will be in a condition to ask association and fellowship with the loyal commonwealths of the country which they deserted with such violence and scorn. UNTIL THAT TIME, in my judgment, it is wise to hold them in strict probation.

"We cannot go back to gather up the fragments of the Union as it was; we must now reconstruct the nation as it is, and make the Constitution what it should be."

The Massacre at New Orleans.

WHAT GENERAL SHERIDAN SAYS.

"The more information I obtain of the affair of the 30th in this city (New Orleans) the more repelling it becomes. It was no riot. It was an absolute massacre by the police, which was not excelled in murderous cruelty by that of Fort Pillow. It was a murder which the Mayor and police perpetrated without the shadow of a necessity. Furthermore, I believe it was premeditated, and every indication points to this."

Senator Trumbull upon President Johnson.

[Extract from his great speech at Chicago.]

A little more than a year ago—on the 14th of April, 1865—the beloved President of the United States, the honored son of Illinois, was basely assassinated at Washington, just before General Grant—another Illinoisian—in command of all the armies of the Republic, had routed and captured the main army of the rebellion, commanded by General Lee. [Cheers.] On the 15th day of April Andrew Johnson took the oath as President of the United States. You all remember the gloom that was spread over the country when the telegraph brought us the sad tidings that the President had been murdered. You all remember the anxiety that was felt for the course of his successor. It was asked on every hand, "What will Andrew Johnson do?" His antecedents were inquired into, and the whole country was in a state of anxiety as to his future course, although we all know that human liberty did not depend upon the life of any one man, that the people were sound, and the people ruled in this republic, and even though their leaders proved recreant to principle, they would raise up others to carry out the wishes of the people. [Applause.]

Andrew Johnson's previous record, from the commencement of the rebellion, gave assurance to the country that all was well.—He had battled against secession while a member of the Senate. He had stood up for the Union in the midst of the conflict of arms He had gone to Tennessee as a Provisional Governor, appointed by President Lincoln, and there had done all in his power to give that State to the Union, and to crush out and put down rebellion.

In his past history we felt that there was an assurance for the future; and when called upon, in less than a week after he had taken the oath, by the Governor of Indiana, and some friends who were with him, he took occasion to say that he referred them to his past history as the evidence of what his future course would be.

On that occasion he gave utterance to the same noble sentiments, which, had they been carried out, would have placed him upon a pinnacle of fame very little beneath his immediate predecessor. On that occasion (and I will use his exact words, reading a few sentences from his own remarks) he said that "treason must be made odious, and traitors must be punished and impoverished; that their social power must be destroyed; if not, they will maintain the ascendancy, and may again become numerous and powerful, for in the words of a former Senator of the United States, 'when traitors become numerous enough, treason becomes respectable,' and I say that after making treason odious, every Union men, and the Government, should be remunerated out of the pockets of those who have inflicted this great suffering upon the country."

In this same speech he remarked: "In reference to what my administration will be while I occupy my present position, I must refer you to the past."

In a former speech, to which he referred, he used the following language:

"In reference to the organization of a State Government in Tennessee, in calling a convention to restore the State, who shall restore and resuscitate it? Shall a man who gave his influence and his means to destroy the Union? Is he to participate in the great work of reorganization? If this be so, then all this precious blood of ours, of our soldiers and officers, so freely poured out, will have been wantonly spilled. All the glorious victories won by our glorious armies will go for naught; all the battlefields which have been sown with dead heroes during the rebellion will have been made immortal in vain. Why all this devastation? It was that treason might be put down and traitors punished. Therefore, I say that traitors should take a back seat in the work of reconstruction.

"If there be but five thousand men in Texas—loyal to the Constitution, loyal to freedom, loyal to justice—those true and faithful men then should be able, to control the work of reorganization and reformation absolutely. Traitors must be punished and impoverished. Every plantation must be seized and divided into small farms, and sold to honest and industrious men."

This, my fellow-citizens, was the language of Andrew Johnson, referred to the day after he was sworn President of the United States. This great hope and encouragement to the country, how was it followed up? How was it that traitors were invited to back seats in the plan of reorganization? I will tell you. In less than six weeks after those words were uttered, and very soon after the rebel armies had all surrendered, and Andrew Johnson had commenced his plan of reconstruction, he appointed his Provisional Governors. To these back seats he invited these rebels, taking one of them from the rank rebel Legislature of Alabama. That was the way that rebels were invited to back seats. That was followed up by an election of members to the Convention: and when elected, instead of confining the work of reconstruction to men who were loyal—if there were but five thousand in a State—what was done? These men who had been invited to back seats called upon the President to issue to them pardons that they might be qualified as members of these conventions, and he did it. And this was the way that the work of reconstruction went on in State after State.

Had Andrew Johnson carried out the policy indicated upon the day after he was sworn in as Chief Magistrate of the nation—had he punished a few traitors, and had it been understood that others would be punished if they continued to boast of their treason, this whole work of reconstruction would have been accomplished long ago, and the whole Southern country would have been governed by loyal men. [Applause.] There was an error when he departed at that early day from the principles he had enunciated when he first took the oath of office. It never would have been the passport to office in the Southern States if the President, who had the whole thing in his own hands at that time, had commenced, as he said it should be done, with the punishment of traitors, and thus let all understand that the boast of treason would be the commencement of a prosecution for treason, and an execution for treason. [Cheers.]

Now what is the condition of things in the Southern States? Why candidates for office publish the position which they held in the rebel army—in the confederate army, as they call it—and one of the most distinguished men in the State of Georgia, a gentleman who has been upon the Supreme Bench of that State, at one time a member of Congress, in a letter to me, received short time since, informed me that a person not entertaining the views which he did, and who was opposed to secession in the beginning, would not be elected to the smallest office in the State of Georgia, no matter how eminent his services, or how distinguished they may have been. Nobody who did not have the recommendation of service to the confederate government was fit for office in the State of Georgia.

Vermont State Election.

THE UNION VOTE NEARLY FOUR-FIFTHS OF THE WHOLE.

Discouraging Figures for "My Policy."

MONTPELIER, Vt., Sept. 5.

Returns from all parts of the State, confirm the estimate of last evening. The Republicans show handsome gains everywhere. Last year Gov Dillingham received about three-fourths of the entire vote; this year out of an aggregate vote of 45,000, he will receive about 35,000. The Republicans are jubilant and surprised at their own doings.

The Democrats have made slight gains in some towns. In many others they have lost. The indications are that not fifty voters (if even ten) hitherto voting with the Republicans have gone over to "My Policy" and the Democrats.

Among the first ninety representatives heard from the Democrats have but three on the popular vote they have not a majority in a single town yet.

In the Third Congressional District, where there were three candidates, Baxter (Republican) leads Hoyt (Republican) by about 800 to 1000. [The first that is by majority—the next by plurality vote in Vermont.]

THE DAM AT TREAT'S FALLS.

An Expression of the People of Bangor.

The following correspondence will speak for itself. We have upon several occasions expressed our sentiments in relation to the subject matter; and it is unnecessary now to say that we are in favor of the question being propounded to the citizens, and also in favor of an affirmative answer.

BANGOR, Sept. 7th, 1866

To the Mayor of the City of Bangor.

The undersigned respectfully represent that there seems to be a general concurrence of opinion among the citizens of Bangor that the aid of the city, in its municipal capacity, should be extended in some form to the great enterprise of developing the water power of the Penobscot river, at or near Treat's Falls. It will be necessary, before this aid can be extended, that the city should receive special authority for that purpose from the Legislature, and it is desirable that this authority should be asked for, with such an unmistakeable popular sanction and endorsement as will ensure its being granted.

We take this method, therefore, of suggesting to you the question whether an informal vote cannot be taken on the day of the approaching annual election, upon the general proposition that the Legislature be requested to authorize the city to aid in developing the water power of the Penobscot river at or near Treat's Falls. You will permit me to say that I have not in my official capacity any control of this subject. It does not come within the line of my official duty in this stage of the proceeding. I heartily coincide, however, with you, when you designate it as "the great enterprise", &c. In my opinion, it surpasses in importance any other local public undertaking. Having one of the best water powers in New England, within the limits of the city, we ought not to rest satisfied till it is made available for useful purposes.

I apprehend that all which will be necessary for the object you have in view, is to place a box and ballots near the Wardens and Clerks of the several Wards on the day of election. Should this be done, I am confident every legal voter would observe the same rules in voting as at the electoral box, and that none others would attempt to vote. The great mass of voters will desire to express their opinion on a subject of such vital interest to every citizen of Bangor. It would be understood, of course, that the vote, if in the affirmative, would be merely expressive of the desirableness of the contemplated object—provided the city could be made safe for the loan of its credit.

I am, gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
A. G WAKEFIELD,
Mayor.

Hon. Hannibal Hamlin.

Our readers will not forget that their distinguished fellow-citizen is to address them this evening at Norombega. In announcing the resignation by Mr. Hamlin of the Boston Custom House, and the honorable reasons given therefor, the Press says,—"It is an act entirely in accordance with that gentleman's independent, honorable and manly character. He could not even seem to 'acquiesce by silence' in the course of those who are waging war upon the most cherished principles and purposes of that party to which he has given his ardent support; in a crisis so important as the present, when the cause to which he has so long devoted himself is assailed not only by the persistent hate of its foes but by the treachery of its trusted friends, he would not refrain from using the powerful influence of which he is possessed in its defence; yet first of all he has chosen to free himself, from every fetter which even the semblance of a personal obligation might impose upon his liberty of action. We say the semblance, for certainly in the case of Mr. Hamlin there was no real personal obligation. The office he held was never solicited by him and in any circumstances the obligations under which Andrew Johnson had been laid by Mr Hamlin and his friends were such as could hardly be compensated by a dozen Collectorships. God knows how bitterly the country has regretted their most generous but mistaken confidence, their fatal unselfishness! But that fact does not change the balance of obligation between the man who is and the man who should be President of the United States to-day, though it may possibly serve to bring into more vivid contrast the attitude and bearing of the two before the country. The frothy pretensions of the 'humble individual' who is just now enlivening his pilgrimage to the tomb of Douglas by trying how many changes can be rung on the pronoun of the first person singular are brought into fine relief by the simple dignity of the position assumed by Mr. Hamlin. The course pursued by the latter gentleman is such as must secure him not alone the respect, but in some measure the gratitude of the whole loyal portion of the country."

A SCENE AT PHILADELPHIA. The Southern Loyal Convention was addressed by Mr. Speed of Kentucky, who, among other things, said:

We, Southern men, who have seen the sin of slavery, know historically and experimentally that it must perish from the face of the earth. While we wish peace, we wish peace permanent and safe, established on the principle of equal justice, equal rights, and equal security to all men within the jurisdiction of the United States.

The Advertiser's correspondent says the heartiest and most significant manifestation of approbation was given to the declaration that there could be no sure peace unless it was founded on equal rights; equal privileges and equal security for all men. The electric and instantaneous outburst with which this was received, the whole house rising to its feet with cheers and a great swinging of hats and handkerchiefs, was something to make one regret that the issue of impartial suffrage is not fairly before the people in this campaign.

The same correspondent says that the most significant event of Tuesday was one that occurred in the convention hall, just as that body adjourned. The Press telegraphic despatch of the morning announcing that General Grant and Admiral Farragut had withdrawn from the Presidential electioneering party immediately after the affair at Cleveland, was read from the platform, and created a scene that no one in the hall will ever forget. The effect was instantaneous, and spoke the popular feeling in language that could not be misunderstood. Two thousand men sprang to their feet at once, a thousand more jumped upon the benches, a hundred voices called for cheers, a round of nine mighty hurrahs was given for each officer, hats were tossed toward the ceiling, men embraced each other in a frenzy of delight, and for ten minutes three or four thousand persons testified by every possible kind of wild and exaggerated action the intense gratification that swelled in every heart. No trick of words, no eloquence of language, can portray the grand incident. It must stand solitary and unique in each man's memory.

Every day and evening outside meetings have been holden, attended by enthusiastic crowds and addressed by gentlemen from various States. At one of these Senator Wilson, Governor Morton, Senator Chandler, Gov. Hawley, Hiram Walbridge, Gen. Chamberlain, Senator Lane Fred. Douglass, Theodore Tilton and others, spoke, and the greatest enthusiasm prevailed from first to last.

The Portland Advertiser gives various definitions of a "Conservative"—beginning as follows:

"A Conservative is a man who believes in the Constitution as it is and the Union as it was."

[Including slavery forever, of course.—This definition is entirely superfluous, without proceeding to the others. It expresses the Advertiser's creed exactly. That paper has always taken the stand that the colored race is best off in a condition of slavery.]

Take Time by the Forelock.

The miasma which generates epidemic fevers is now rising in souls under the blazing beams of the dog day sun. Every living body, as well as refuse animal and vegetable matter, emits unwholesome vapors, and in crowded cities and the dense assemblages which business and pleasure call together the elements of disease are evolved. The pressure upon every vital organ is never so great as in the second and third months of summer, and common sense teaches us that these organs require to be reinforced to meet it.

We hold our lives, so to speak, on a repairing lease, and this is the season when the process of dilapidation is most rapid and repairs are most required. Therefore build up, prop and sustain the powers of nature with that mighty vegetable recuperant, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. He who takes it may be said to clothe himself in sanitary mail, against which epidemic disease will hurl its poisoned shafts in vain. This is no gratuitous assertion, but a great medical fact, attested by twelve years' experience in every climate of the habitable globe. Extremes of temperature always disturb the functions of the stomach, the bowels, the liver and the skin. It is through these that the most dangerous maladies assails us. Tone them in advance with HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, and defy heat and malaria. sept 6—sn3taw d&w 2w

Ritchie's Liquid Compass!

THE Ritchie Compass which has been the standard Compass in the navy for upwards of four years, and also in extensive use in the merchant service, should be used on every class of vessels where a compass is to be depended on. It combines all the qualities of a perfect instrument. To extreme sensitiveness and perfect steadiness is added a strength and durability which prevents them from getting out of order like other compasses. The reason for this is apparent to any one upon examination. A single trial of this compass has always resulted in its adoption and the rejection of every other kind.

PORTLAND, Sept. 7.

The discussion between Mr. Pillsbury, the Democratic candidate for Governor, and Hon. J. G. Blaine, Member of Congress, took place this afternoon, before a crowded audience of citizens in a mammoth tent, and was very ably and courteously conducted on both sides.

Both political parties are holding mass meetings to-night, and getting up much enthusiasm for Monday's contest at the polls.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.

The Treasury Department has received information of the capture by the U. S. revenue cutter Mahoning of the sch. Ariel off the coast of Maine on the 28th ult. She was engaged in smuggling from the British Provinces a large cargo of brandy, gin, cod oil, spices, &c., a portion of which had been landed. One successful trip had been made by the vessel this year.

TOPEKA, Kansas, Sept. 6.

Gen. Cloud, commanding the State militia, sends to Gov. Crawford, an official resume of Indian outages in May.

Seven settlers were killed on Republican and Solomon rivers. Whole neighborhoods were driven from their houses on the White Rock, abandoning their improvements and crops. Several women are reported to have been ravished and otherwise savagely treated. In August, at a settlement on one of the Solomon, the people were ordered away, and their corn and other produce was eaten by the Indians. In each instance the settlers were ordered not to return on pain of death.

Beyond the settlements members of surveying parties were killed.

Information has been given that the combined tribes of wild Indians on the plains intend to commit depredations on settlers during the fall and winter.

The Pawnees, Omahas, and Otisabies, are on good reservations in ostensible peace, and are the perpetrators of these.

BELFAST, Sept. 7.

At a large Republican caucus to-night, Dr. Nahum P. Monroe, late surgeon of 20th Maine regiment, was nominated by acclamation as representative to the Legislature.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 7.

The Express publishes a letter taken from a Hamilton (C. W.) paper, which was said to have been picked up in the streets of Hamilton, containing an intimation of a plot to burn Buffalo, especially the elevators. It was stated some time ago, that a plot existed to burn the towns along the American border. The whole thing is thought to be bosh.

The Philadelphia Convention.

[Conclusion of Thursday's Report.]

Brownlow had no hesitation in saying he was for negro suffrage. He would rather be elected to office by loyal negroes than by disloyal whites. He would rather associate with loyal negroes in private life than with white rebels. He would rather be buried in a negro graveyard than in a rebel graveyard, and if he had to go to hell or heaven after death he would rather go with negroes than with rebels.

He withdrew his motion to adjourn sine die.

Finally, after considerable debate, a compromise was effected, which was that the committee on the reconstructed States report their platform and address to-morrow; that the delegates from these States alone should discuss or vote upon them; and that such platform and address should be incorporated and published with the regular proceedings.

The convention then adjourned until to-morrow.

The Maryland and other border State delegations will take no further part in the proceedings.

The Territorial Board of Canvassers finished counting the vote on the evening of the 5th inst. George L Chilcott, the republican candidate for delegate to Congress, had a majority of 108 over Hunt, the administration candidate. Gov. Cumming gave a certificate of election to Hunt, and a majority of the Board of Canvassers gave a certificate to Chilcott.

BRATTLEBORO, Vt., Sept. 7.

The New England Fair closed this afternoon. There were several interesting races, the most important of which was the one between the stallion Ethan Allen and the mare "Fearless," for the Society's purse of $500. It was won by Ethan in two straight heats. Time, 2,38, 2,39.

Gov. Burnside of Rhode Island and Gen. Devens of Massachusetts were on the judges' stand during the afternoon, and in response to the loud calls of the crowd, made brief remarks.

The number of visitors to the Fair during the four days is estimated at 50,000.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7.

The report of the committee on non-reconstructed States says—

Loyal men are hunted and threatened in private and denounced in public assemblages, bowed down and crushed by the foul spirit of a prevailing, clamorous, disloyal population. Many of the people are selling their estates for whatever they can get, to procure money to enable them to leave and come North. During the continuance of the war the rebels feared that punishment would be meted out to them for the wrong done to Union men, should they fail in their object.

This fear was a protection, especially during 1863 and 1864. Now, even this guaranty is taken away. Our persecutors are the Vice Regents of the national power. At the South the Union man is discarded and abjured. He has to look forward to a life of continued persecution for himself and seedom for his children. The free north offers the only protection. Without protection for the present and future, there is no hope, but in exile.

This committee is in possession of information that Union men dare not attend the convention for fear of violence upon their return. Gentlemen of this convention have since their arrival in this city, received notices warning them not to return home. We submit it to the impartial judgment of the American people, if these State governments thus ruled by a disunion oligarchy, and based on the political disfranchisement of three million of colored citizens, and the social disfranchisement of all loyal white citizens, are republican in form. They are undoubtedly despotic, and despotic in the interest of treason, as we of the South know but too well. All of the restraining influences in favor of the Union, existing before the war, have perished from the land, save the public light kept alive by the loyalists. The armed efforts to overthrow the Government having been treated simply as an unsuccessful, but heroic act. leaders of rebellion stand justified, in the eyes of their own people. This is the basis of their moral justification: they possess the lands of the South; through the favoritism of the military despotism enthroned at Richmond during the war they absorbed by contracts and speculation the wealth of our section.

They have been confirmed in the possession of their ill-gotten wealth by the pardoning power of the Executive, by the provisions of the national bank act requiring local residence for directors. They possess control of the entire financial power of the States, where, with the lands, the cotton, the tobacco, and the railroad wealth, and wielding the banking influence of the country, and speaking by authority of the President as supporters of his dynasty and his administration policy, they dominate with an absolute power.

The remedy which is proposed in the President's policy will only increase the sufferings of the Southern loyalists and open a way for perpetuating the tyranny of their oppressors.

The hope of wielding the united Southern vote in the next Presidential election has already corrupted the foundations of national justice. An open and shameless coalition has been formed, which needs only for its consummation the success of the President's policy. Into that coalition have been already drawn, by one influence or another, men heretofore identified with the dearest affections of the American people. Thus the work of political corruption will go on, the South will continue compact, defiant and sectionalized, with its anti-republican institutions resting on negro serfdom as the corner-stone, while the North will be torn by factions and distracted by the ambition of aspiring politicians and contending parties.

This conflict of sections will progress transferred from the battle-fields to the halls of the National Legislature. The spirit of disunion will seek to gain by the ballot what it failed to achieve by the sword. The second open armed attempt at separation will be simply a question of time and favorable opportunity. There is but one way to destroy this principle of sectionalism in the South. It is by overturning the corner stone on which it rests.

There can be no safety for the country against the fell spirit of slavery now organized in a form of serfdom, unless the Government, by rational and appropriate legislation, enforced by the national authority, shall confer on every citizen in the States we represent the American birthright of Impartial Suffrage and Equality before the law.

Freights to Liverpool dull.

AN INDUSTRIOUS SEXTON. The Cape Ann Advertiser says:

Mr. E. K. Goldsmith has been the sexton of the Congregational church in Essex for a quarter of a century. He has rung the bell 30,000 times, travelling 4500 miles for that purpose, or as far as from here to San Francisco. His Sabbath bells have been 7500. He has buried 750. All this while he has had a class in the Sabbath School, and has gratuitously done all the work connected with circulating 50,000 copies of periodicals, including collecting the money for them. He is not tired yet.

"MY POLICY" MEN SCARCE. A friend from the town of Fairfax, in this county, writing to the paper says: "I know of no man in this vicinity that has ever acted with the Republican party, who now supports Johnson."

LOCAL AND STATE ITEMS.

The vote for "military" candidate was as follows:

" 4.—G. W. Whitney.
" 5.—J. G. Clark.
" 6.—Frank Trickey.
" 7.—Burleigh Pease.

Speeches were made by Hon. Isaiah Stetson, General H. M. Plaisted and General Hersey.

S. F. HERSEY, Chairman.

C. P. STETSON, Secretary.

—Rev. Mr. Dalton of Portland will preach at St. John's Church, French street, to-morrow, at both the morning service and evening. The evening service is held, for the present, at seven o'clock.

"WHAT GEN. CHAMBERLAIN SAYS."—When the other day we felt it to be our duty to withdraw from our columns the name of Gen. Chamberlain, the Whig took us to task for it. We notice this morning, that the Whig itself has withdrawn that portion of Gen. Chamberlain's letter, in which occurs the indiscreet, damaging paragraph, commencing thus: "We cannot go back to gather up the fragments of the Union," &c.—Times.

The Times is awful sharp, to be sure. The entire extract was omitted for a single day, with other matters, in order to make room for the scathing address of Gov. Brownlow. The Times, by the way, bites off the sentence it quotes in the middle, in order to give the language an entirely different meaning from its true one. The paper is prone to brag of its fairness.

REPUBLICAN RALLY THIS EVENING. Remember the meeting this evening at Norombega Hall, to hear Hon. Hannibal Hamlin. It will be the last political meeting of the campaign, and we have no doubt the people will be there.

SEND IN RETURNS. Will our friends be kind enough to send us returns of the election by the first mails?

—We are indebted to Mr. Albert Emerson for some fine fruit from his excellent garden on Summer Street. He has a large number of trees of the best varieties of plums, grapes, pears and apples, in good bearing.

—Decision in law by Law Court at Portland:

PENOBSCOT.

James C. Grant vs Lemuel Nichols. Exceptions (by Plff.) overruled.

J. Crosby. Whitney.

TO BE LAUNCHED. The new bark "Helena," owned by Messrs. Holyoke, Baker & Co., N. C. Ayer, Mrs. A. P. Guild, Capt. Jackson, (who is to command her) will be launched from the yard of Towksbury & Emerson, about 10½ o'clock this forenoon.

—The democratic-conservative-Johnson party (the conservative element being exceedingly scarce) of Brewer and Orrington have nominated Capt. Alpheus T. Palmer for representative.

—The Republicans of Frankfort Mills and vicinity will be addressed this evening at 7 o'clock, by Capt. E. R. Mayo.

EXTRA TRAIN FROM OLDTOWN. To accommodate citizens of Oldtown, Milford, Bradley, &c., desirous of hearing the Hon. Hannibal Hamlin at Norombega Hall this evening, a train will leave Milford at 6½ o'clock and return after the close of the meeting. Fare fifteen cents each way.

Messrs. Wheeler & Lynde:

I had the pleasure, a day or two since, of ride to Orono and back by the accommodation stage, and was agreeably impressed with the difference of this, as compared with former journeys over the same road.

Mr. William Jewell has lately purchased the line between this city and Orono, and has put on a splendid coach, good horses and new harnesses. He drives the coach and conducts the business himself, and is every way worthy the patronage of a discriminating public.

Yours, &c., T. H.

—For prodigious bearing we have never seen anything to exceed a pear tree of the Flemish Beauty variety, in the garden of Mr. H. C. Butler on Union Street. It literally holds as many full sized pears as there is room for upon the limbs. From one small branch less than an inch in diameter and about five feet in length, which broke from its supports, more than a hundred large pears were taken. The tree is a curiosity. We will just mention that that and other trees in his garden are not safe to approach in the night time, as a fierce looking bull-dog usually camps on the ground.

EXETER, Sept. 5, 1866.

Mr. Editor.—The Union meeting held at Exeter to-day, was a perfect success, the large Town House being well filled. The speeches of Judge Humphrey and Col. Dunning each occupying about an hour and a half were of the first order. Both, though perfect antipodes in their manner of speaking, held the audience to the last moment with the greatest interest. UNION.

Republican Candidates for Representatives.

Isleboro, Perry, &c.—E. Adams Davis.

Pembroke, Robbinston, &c.—Albert Buck of Robbinston.

[The above from the Eastport Sentinel.]

Rockland.—Gen J. P. Cilley, Colonel E. R. Spear.

Thomaston, &c.—Capt. George W. Robinson, of Thomaston.

Warren and Union.—Calvin Bickford of Warren.

South Thomaston, Vinalhaven, &c.—Simon C. Webster of Vinalhaven.

Washington, Appleton and Hope.—Simon A. Fish of Hope.

[The above from the Rockland Democrat.]

Lincoln, &c.—David N. Rogers.

Hermon, Carmel and Levant.—John H. Hinckley.

Kenduskeag, Corinth and Hudson.—Wm. E. Atwood.

Garland and Exeter.—Lyndon Oak.

—The Oxford Democrat says that a young man of Canton, Mr. George Billings, was found insensible in his bed and died the next day.

—Mr. Hopkins, Agent of the City of Richmond, at Millbridge, informs the Machias Union that estimating and judging from the best means at command, the blueberries picked on Epping plains and adjoining regions, will amount in value to $40,000 for the present picking season.

DEDICATION. We learn from the Waterville Mail that the new church recently erected by Dr. Sheldon's Society, (Unitarian), was dedicated on Tuesday. The services consisted of scriptural readings by Rev Mr. Palfrey, of Belfast; prayer by Rev. Mr. Everett, of Bangor; sermon by Rev. Dr. Hale, of Boston; concluding prayer by Rev. Mr. Stone of Norridgewock; and benediction by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Sheldon.—The house was filled with an audience largely composed of visitors from abroad, and the various services were highly interesting and impressive. The church is a fine building, and cost, with its furniture, about $17,000.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT. The Oxford Democrat says that the Tuesday morning train for Montreal, was thrown off the track, in Stark. A rail was thrown out by the baggage car, and this threw off both the passenger cars. They went down a steep embankment, and were turned half over, stopping only a foot from the river. One passenger was fatally injured, probably, three others seriously, and several badly bruised. Mr. John Woodman and wife of that village, were on the train. Mr. W. was in the baggage car and was not hurt; his wife escaped with some bruises on her head. They were able to continue their journey.

Messrs. Wheeler & Lynde:

At our Class Convention to-day, Hon. Lewis Barker was unanimously nominated for Representative, when he and Mr. Morrill made splendid speeches, to a crowd.

Yours,

NEWPORT, Sept. 7, 1866.

—The Portland Star says the cause of the accident to the steamer Regulator was a thick log which prevailed at the time. The Press says the steamer was placed upon the marine railway, and it was found that the damage she experienced was but slight, a small hole having been knocked in her forefoot. She will be repaired immediately.

—The Portland Advertiser says that the Commissioners of the Atlantic & St. Lawrence Railroad Sinking Fund presented their annual report to the City Council on Monday evening, from which it appears that on the 31st of July the whole amount of the Sinking Fund established August 1, 1838, to secure the loan of one million dollars by the city was $375,015.80. The whole amount of the fund established July 27, 1850, to secure the loan of $500,000 by the city was $167,975.20. Total amount of both funds $543,988.00. The increase during the past year of these funds has exceeded $53,000.

—The Eastport Sentinel says that Mr. C. W. Newcomb has contracted to build the Masonic Hall for $6700, and will commence work upon it immediately. It will be an elegant building.

—Mr. Henry Matthews shot a heron last week whose extreme length was six feet, and from tip to tip of the wings, five feet. His weight was six pounds. The bird, in one respect, resembles some fashionably dressed ladies—more show than substance.—[Eastport Sentinel.

—The annual report of the Directors of the Boston and Maine railroad is published and shows the gross revenue from all sources for the year ending May 31st, 1866, to be $1,521,129 25, and the expenditures, including taxes, depreciation of cars, engines, &c. to have been $1,037,892 46.

Almost incredible appears the fact that the bricks that are every day being dug out from the ruins are so hot that they are uncomfortable to handle. To-day, pieces of iron were taken from the block lot that blistered the men's hands to touch them, and this more than sixty days after the great fire.—Portland Star.

SABBATH SCHOOL CONVENTION. The Congregational Sabbath Schools of Penobscot County will hold a Convention at Orono, Tuesday, Sept. 11th, at 9½ o'clock.

Addresses in the morning will be delivered by Rev. H. A. Shorey, of East Orrington, and Rev. A. D. Eddy, D. D., of New York.

In the afternoon the Convention will be addressed by Rev. W. Newell of Brewer, Rev. L. L. Bowler of Hampden, Rev. Geo. W. Field of Bangor and others.

A full attendance is requested. An omnibus runs from Orono in connection with the cars at Upper Stillwater, for the accommodation of any who may wish to attend from the city.

THE BREAD-AND-BUTTER BRIGADE.—The Eastport Sentinel says:

A meeting of the leaders of the democracy of this section was held at Mabee's Hotel Monday afternoon to agree upon the officers to be appointed in this collection district. There were present, J C Talbot of East Machias; Seth Emerson and T L Lowell of Calais; James W Cox of Robbinston; S Staples and David Pike of Lubec; T J Sheridan of Pembroke; William Peavy of Whiting; and B L Odell, E H Andrews, C J Peavey and others whose names we have not learned of this town. The candidates for Collector are T C Talbot and B L Odell; for surveyor Seth Emerson; for Deputy Collector Chas T L Lowell. For the other subordinate offices we have not learned the names of the candidates.

Go ahead, gentlemen, your fun will be of short duration. Our next Congress will be more emphatic in opposition to 'my policy' than the present one, and with that policy you will speedily be reckoned among the things that were.—Eastport Sentinel.

THE GOOD SAMARITAN.—The Good Samaritan that poured oil and wine into the wounds of the unfortunate Jew, that had been beaten and left for dead by the wayside, was not a greater benefactor than James Pyle, who, by the introduction of his labor-saving O. K. Soap, is keeping many a poor washerwoman from a premature grave; and by lessening the outlay for Soap, is putting bread into the mouths of the poor. Sold by grocers everywhere.

THE NERVE OF THE POCKET is sometimes as sensitive as the nerve of the tooth. The universal demand for the fragrant Sozodont, in preference to all other dentifrices, is swamping all tooth powders and tooth washes of the experimental class of Dentists.—Hence they denounce it.

What Horace Maynard Thinks.

Only a few Southern men are now better known or more generally trusted than has Horace Maynard. A correspondent at Philadelphia thus speaks of him and his opinions, which will be found of interest:

The subject of a renewal of civil war in certain contingencies has been a good deal discussed. There are those who are quite apprehensive on this point, and Mr. Horace Maynard, among others, was asked his opinion. Mr. Maynard expressed the belief that the only way to avert trouble is by carrying the fall elections for the Congressional policy. He says that the Union men of Tennessee already are subject to a great deal of persecution, social ostracism, business ostracism, insults, annoyances of all kinds, terminating often in violence. Another Tennessee delegate corroborated this statement, and said his county paper publicly warned him not to return from this convention.—Other delegates from Georgia and Alabama had received similar warnings, and some of them will heed them.

Mr. Maynard says that the one thing to secure Union men in the South is a radical triumph in the North. He says that the rebellion was broken down from the moment when the news of Mr. Lincoln's election was announced, and that a similar effort would follow a radical triumph now. He thinks that the rebels would be as quick to recognize and submit to a political defeat now as in 1864.

London, Sept. 4. The troops sent to Canada will be armed with breech loaders.

Berlin, Sept. 4. Sixty thousand Prussian troops are ordered to the Rhine. Prussia is treating for the purchase of the iron-clad Dunderberg.

Peace with Hesse Darmstadt was signed on the 3d. Hesse Darmstadt cedes some of its Northern ports and pays three million of thalers. Hesse Hamburg also goes to Prussia.

Baron Werther has been appointed Under Secretary of Foreign Affairs. Baron Gottes, Envoy at Paris, goes to Vienna. Count Metternich, the Austrian ambassador, has been recalled from Paris.

In addition to three millions of florins, paid by Hesse Darmstadt, in compliance with the demands of Prussia, that Duchy has ceded to the latter twenty-six square miles of her territory as indemnity for war expenses.

VERMONT. The Boston Journal says:—"We wish every true Union Republican in Maine would read our special despatch from Montpelier, in to-days JOURNAL, and then pledge himself that from to-day until the polls close on Monday next, he will spare no efforts to secure a similar result in his own State. But ten thousand out of forty-five thousand votes for 'my policy' is a weak and miserable show indeed for the Copperhead party. There are hardly 'my policy' men enough there for seed for a good sized crop next year. Let Maine 'keep the ball rolling,' and pass it on to Pennsylvania."

KNOWLES'
Vegetable Hair Restorer!

AS A HAIR PREPARATION this stands without a rival—has proved itself by the thousands who have tested its virtues for the past three years,

THE ONLY RELIABLE RESTORER

Of Gray, Faded, or Diseased Hair, to its original color, condition and former beauty.

"It is not a Dye, being a Vegetable Compound, and not injurious in its application; but is warranted to restore Gray, Faded, or Diseased Hair to its original color in 30 days.

By its invigorating properties, promotes a luxuriant growth on Bald Heads, in all cases where such a result is possible; prevents the hair from falling off; eradicates dandruff, humors, and all other impurities from the scalp; and as a Restorer and Dressing combined, it has no equal.

The great and increasing sales of this preparation attest the high value in which it is held, and the fact that its reputation has been established solely upon its own merit and worth—the trial of a single bottle will convince the most skeptical of its virtues.

The Sword of Freedom.

[A free translation of "Das Deutsche Schwert," as sung by the grand chorus with orchestra, at the Sanger-feast in Providence.

BY JOHN. S. DWIGHT.

The noblest weapon ever worn,
With fondest pride by hero borne,
Is freedom's shining blade;
And it shall flash with might again,
And it shall smite oppression's chain,
And Kings shall be afraid.

That weapon is not bought and sold,
The freeman not from greed of gold
Will lift that sword of might;
But only in his Country's cause,
For health and home, for equal laws,
For Fatherland and Right.

And so its hilt is like the cross;
That men may count all else as loss,
Save Love that maketh free,
And so its blade, how bright to-day!
On Time's great dial points alway
To Death or Liberty!

O, evermore, my faithful sword,
Till Peace with Freedom be restored,
Still dye the crimson red!
Th' exulting hero swings thee high,
Exulting rushes on to die,
Thee whistling round his head!

Freemasonry.—Judge English once pronounced the following beautiful tribute to the grand old Order of Freemasonry, which is worth almost committing to memory, as a splendid, tender and solemn invocation to the seekers after what is beautiful and true and sacred in association:

There is no humane organization upon the globe that ever has or ever will harmonize in one body so many elements which are in external conflict as the Masonic organization. Its wise founders, if it ever had any, organized it upon a few simple but cardinal Land Marks which command the approbation and lay fast hold upon the affections of its initiates, and which furnish no grounds of controversy, admit of no improvement, and tolerate no change. The laws of Masonry are as fixed, immutable and eternal as the laws of mathematics. The old patriarch Enoch inscribed them on a pillar of stone, and transmitted them through the mighty flood; Noah taught them to two of his sons upon the summit of the sacred mountain where his Ark rested when the flood subsided and the green earth bloomed and blushed again with vine and fruit under the genial sun; Moses learned them from the old priests on the banks of the Nile; the men of Gibal carved them on the rock-ribs of the Mediterranean sea; Solomon and two Hirams collected them in a brief code at Jerusalem, and the builders and re-builders of the Temple spread them over the globe; and they were transmitted to us in legendary lines, as well as the Indian chiefs who inhabited and claimed to own this great country before our forefathers discovered it.

An Art Item.—Dear ——: You were kind enough to inform me that you would be much obliged if I would let you know if there was anything stirring in the world of art. The last thing which stirred in my world—I mean in my workshop in the Studio Building—was a German of the Carpenter persuasion. At least he had a side pocket, and folding two-feet rule, with a shaving on his left curl.

'Bees you a poor-trait painter?' he inquired.

'Truly I am!' I replied.

'I wants you to baint de likeness of my fader.'

'With pleasure. Bring him here.'

'Yas—see now, dat is not possible. He lies geburied in the burying cround in Stuttgart in Shermany.'

'Well have you a photograph of him?'

'Nichts photograb.'

'Or a bust?'

'Nichts pust.'

'Or a drawing?'

'Nichts trawing.'

'Or an engraving?'

'Nichts craving.'

'Well, then, what have you got?'

'I got dis dings.'

Saying this, he brought forth a small book, greatly worn, which he slowly opened and unfolded from it a broad leaf, adorned with German emblems, and crabbed pot-hook inscriptions which looked like lager-beer signs.

'What is that?'

'Dis is mein fader's passport. Look ant readt! Plue eyes, proun hair, round kinn, pig mout—und all dat, so' fort. He hafe a good deal expression like mine.'

(Where this latter could have been, I could not imagine.)

'Yas—and he wear a plue gote.'

'Oh—a goatee, I suppose on his chin?'

'No. It was a plue gote on his pack. He hafe a peered like mein and look like mein. But mein fader was a more older man dan me.'

'Ah, indeed!'

'Yas. Baint him mit a piple on a table, und mit a girl on his hands.'

'What?'

'Yas—mine leetle daughter. I prings her here to be colored.'

It was a bold thing to do; but on this small capital I went to work and succeeded. At least Jacobus Kirchelheimer said so—and he ought to know, for he was a first rate fellow, and sent me, over and above the price agreed upon, a dozen bottles of Rudesheimer. A suspicion seemed indeed to haunt his mind that the portrait resembled himself much more than it did the late Herr Kirchelheimer, pere—but he speedily found comfort in the following reflection.

'Ven I kits to pe more older, it will do shoost as goot as for mine picture as for de old one.'

Curious Facts about Water. The extent to which water mingles with bodies apparently the most solid, is very wonderful. The glittering opal, which beauty wears as an ornament, is only flint and water. Of every twelve hundred tons of earth which a landholder has in his estate, four hundred are water. The snow-capped summits of Snowdon and Ben Nevis have many million tons of water in a solidified form. In every plaster of Paris statute which an Italian carries through our streets for sale, there is one pound of water to four pounds of chalk.

The air we breathe contains five grains of water to each cubic foot of its bulk. The potatoes and turnips which are boiled for our dinner have, in their raw state, the one seventy-five per cent, and the other ninety per cent of water. If a man weighing ten stone were squeezed in a hydraulic press, seven and a half stone of water would run out, and only two and a half of dry residue remain. A man is, chemically speaking, forty-five pounds of carbon and nitrogen, diffused through five and a half pailsful of water.

THE KIDNEYS.

The kidneys are two in number, situated at the upper part of the loin, surrounded by fat and consisting of three parts, viz.: The Anterior, the Interior, and the Exterior.

The anterior absorbs. Interior consists of tissues or veins, which serve as a deposit for the urine and convey it to the exterior. The exterior is a conductor also, terminating in a single tube and called the Ureter. The ureters are connected with the bladder.

The bladder is composed of various coverings or tissues, divided into parts, viz.: the Upper, the Lower, the Nervous, and the Mucous. The upper expels, the lower retains. Many have a desire to urinate without the ability, others urinate without the ability to retain. This frequently occurs in children. To cure these affections we must bring into action the muscles, which are engaged in their various functions. If they are neglected, Gravel or Dropsy may ensue.

The reader must also be made aware, that however slight may be the attack, it is sure to affect his bodily health and mental powers; as our flesh and blood are supported from these sources.

GOUT, OR RHEUMATISM.

Pain occurring in the loins is indicative of the above disease. They occur in persons disposed to acid stomach and chalky concretions.

THE GRAVEL.

The gravel ensues from neglect or improper treatment of the kidneys. These organs being weak, the water is not expelled from the bladder, but allowed to remain; it becomes feverish and sediment forms. It is from this deposit that the stone is formed and gravel ensues.

DROPSY.

Is a collection of water in some parts of the body, and bears different names, according to the parts affected, viz.: when generally diffused over the body, it is called Anasarca; when of the abdomen, Ascites; when of the chest, Hydrothorax.

TREATMENT.

Helmbold's highly concentrated compound Extract Buchu is decidedly one of the best remedies for diseases of the bladder, kidney, gravel, dropsical swellings, rheumatism, and gouty affections. Under this head we have arranged Dysuria, or difficulty and pain in passing water, scanty secretion or small and frequent discharges of water; Strangury or stopping of water, Hematuria or bloody urine, Gout and Rheumatism of the kidneys, without any change in quantity, but increase of color or dark water. It was always highly recommended, by the late Dr. Physick in these affections.

This medicine increases the power of digestion and excites the absorbents into healthy exercise, by which the watery or calcareous depositions and all unnatural enlargements, as well as pain and inflammation, are reduced, and is taken by

MEN, WOMEN, AND CHILDREN.

Directions for use and diet accompany.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., February 25, 1867.

H. T. HELMBOLD, Druggist.

Dear Sir: I have been a sufferer, for upwards of twenty years, with gravel, bladder, and kidney affections, during which time I have used various medicinal preparations, and been under the treatment of the most eminent physicians, experiencing but little relief.

Having seen your preparations extensively advertised, I consulted with my family physician in regard to using your Extract Buchu.

I did this because I had used all kinds of advertised remedies, and had found them worthless, and some quite injurious; in fact, I despaired of ever getting well, and determined to use no remedies hereafter unless I knew of the ingredients. It was this that prompted me to use your remedy. As you advertised that it was composed of buchu, cubebs, and juniper berries, it occurred to me and my physician as an excellent combination, and, with his advice, after an examination of the article, and consulting again with the druggist, I concluded to try it. I commenced its use about eight months ago, at which time I was confined to my room. From the first bottle I was astonished and gratified at the beneficial effect, and after using it three weeks was able to walk out. I felt much like writing you a full statement of my case at that time, but thought my improvement might only be temporary, and therefore concluded to defer and see if it would effect a perfect cure, knowing then it would be of greater value to you are more satisfactory to me.

I am now able to report that a cure is effected after using the remedy for five months.

I have not used any now for three months, and feel as well in all respects as I ever did.

Your Buchu being devoid of any unpleasant taste and odor, a nice tonic and invigorator of the system, I do not mean to be without it whenever occasion may require its use in such affections.

DR. LAROOKAH'S
Sarsaparilla Compound,

For the Speedy and Permanent Cure of Liver Complaints, Scrofula or King's Evil, Eruptions, and all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Salt Rheum, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches and Boils; Rheumatic and Neuralgic Pains in the Bones, Side and Head: for the various Weaknesses to which Females are liable, Dyspepsia, Debility, Emaciation, Dropsy, and all diseases resulting from or in an impure state of the Blood.

IT is invaluable to Nervous Sufferers, and a positive cure for Palsy arising from the abuse of Mercury or Lead.

It is a Tonic as well as an Alterative, and a sure protection from attacks that originate in change of climate, season or life.

LIVER COMPLAINTS and their combined symptoms, such as Lumbago, Jaundice, Rheumatism, Bilious Eruptions, &c. When caused by Scrofula taint, this compound is a most effectual remedy.

DYSPEPSIA or INDIGESTION, is often caused by Scrofula, which deranges the stomach, and renders it unhealthy. Indigestion is not always caused by Scrofula, when it is, this Sarsaparilla Compound is a ready cure.

NEURALGIA, HEADACHE and various disorders of the nervous system frequently arise from a low state of the constitutional health, and are much relieved and often cured by this powerful remedy.

ERYSIPELAS, Boils, Tumors, or Salt Rheum, Ulcers, Sores, &c. Moderate doses three times a day will usually effect the cure of the above complaints, but often requires considerable time.

Price one dollar per bottle. Six bottles for five dollars.

ALL-CONQUERING
INDIAN VEGETABLE PULMONIC SYRUP,
A Sovereign Remedy for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Consumption, and all diseases of the Throat & Lungs.

Price 50 Cents and $1,00 per Bottle.

DR. KNIGHTS'
Oriental Hair Restorer.

After a long series of experiments, this article, as it is now offered to the public, is believed to be the most perfect of its kind which science has ever devised. No pains have been spared to produce what has so long been demanded by thousands, who, from sickness or other causes, have become prematurely grey; and others, who, in the sere and yellow leaf of life, would retain, as far as possible, the semblance of youth. DR. KNIGHTS' ORIENTAL HAIR RESTORER, after a few applications, restores grey or faded hair to its original color, and is the only preparation of the kind upon which the public can place any reliance. It has never been known to fail in a single instance, and is totally unlike the thousand and one so-called Hair Restorers, by which so many have been egregiously deceived.

It is delightfully perfumed, gives the hair a rich and glossy appearance, promotes its luxuriant growth, and will not soil the skin, scalp, or any article of apparel.

PRICE 75 CENTS PER BOTTLE.
